Noblesville Creates' HATCH Fest is Growing: Expanded Festival Celebrates Youth Entrepreneurs, Art, and Heritage in Downtown Noblesville

NOBLESVILLE, Ind. – A beloved summer tradition in downtown Noblesville is getting bigger and better. HATCH Fest, Hamilton County's annual celebration of Arts, Technology, Craft, and Heritage, returns Saturday, June 14 from 11 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. with an expanded footprint and exciting new features that showcase the region's creative spirit.

Each year, the Historic Courthouse Square comes alive in mid-June with the vibrant sights, sounds, and smells of HATCH Fest. Attendees can expect the same charming atmosphere of fresh strawberry shortcake, live local music, and booth after booth of handmade goods. This year, Logan Street Bridge will be shut down during the HATCH Fest event, allowing more space for artists, makers, and entrepreneurs.

This year's expansion is fueled by a new partnership between Noblesville Creates and the Children's Entrepreneur Market, a national organization that empowers young people to launch and run their own businesses. With this collaboration, HATCH Fest will host an unprecedented number of youth vendors, offering a unique opportunity for the next generation of creators to step into the spotlight.

In addition to youth businesses and artist vendors, attendees can enjoy beloved festival staples, including St. Michael's Episcopal Church's Strawberry Festival, hands-on activities, maker demonstrations, live music, and readings of the Emancipation Proclamation in honor of Juneteenth. See the full entertainment schedule below (subject to change).

ALL DAY - Demonstrations and interactive activities by the Noblesville High School and Middle School Robotics Teams (located in the Southeast quadrant of the Noblesville Historic Courthouse Square)

11:00 AM-11:55 AM – Indiana Music by Geoff Davis (located on the NE Corner of the Noblesville Historic Courthouse Square)
